

&

present:

Sustainable Geotourism Program for the Mississippi River

FREE Project Planning & Orientation Meeting

Feb 25th: 12:30-5pm

Feb 26th: 9am-12pm

St. Louis Union Station Hotel
1820 Market St. St. Louis, MO 63103
Room: New York/Illinois Central

Missouri & Illinois: Please join us!

National Geographic and the Mississippi River Connections Collaborative, with partners along the way, want to use stories to bring to life the unique attractions found along the shores of this mighty river. The culture, heritage and ecological diversity will be compiled into an interactive, National Geographic Society co-branded website of the region to encourage the world to visit and explore.

Who should attend: Interested businesses, non-profit organizations, tourism departments, local governments, State and Federal agencies, and economic development staff. Please RSVP or send questions about the meeting or hotel options to: Barbara Bernthal at bbernthal@grgstl.org or 314-932-4918

To see similar programs, visit <http://www.natgeomaps.com/geotourism>