TACTIC: Social Media

Takeaways

The Great River Road's Facebook and Instagram accounts performed well in Q3, increasing fan numbers and fan engagement, thanks to social media advertising dollars and a series of giveaways to promote the summer events campaign in July and August and Drive the Great River Road Month in September.

Facebook Takeaways

The Facebook page added more than 1,000 fans in Q2, despite the fact that a page likes ad wasn't running (this is attributable to our other social media spending as well as the summer events giveaway and the Drive the Great River Road Month photo contest). The most popular post of the quarter--boosted by advertising dollars--was a link to an article on the experiencemississippiriver.com site about planning a fall color getaway.

Instagram Takeaways

The Instagram account performed very well in Q3, adding more than 750 fans and seeing significant engagement, thanks to our robust advertising efforts. Mississippi River scenery, especially fall color posts, continue to perform well.

*detailed stats for this post were unavailable on Facebook

Instagram ads have different goals than Facebook ads, hence the different stats

Note: Facebook spam (comments on posts that were mimicking our giveaways, linking to spam sites, and in some cases posing as the Great River Road online store) increased significantly when we ran these weekly giveaways on the Great River Road page. This resulted in many comments after the first couple of giveaways asking if this was spam/citing our page as a spam account/etc. (We message those people who commented to reassure them that we were indeed a valid page/account.) This spam continues to show up on our page today, though it's more of the spam link variety than the fake contest or fake Great River Road online store variety. Running this many Facebook giveaways (one a week) during the month may have opened us up to these spammers; in the future we may want to cut back on the number of social media giveaways to 1-2 during the month instead of the seven that we ran (though Instagram did not see an influx of spammers, to be fair).
